JOB PRINTING, OF ALL KINDS, EXECUTED AT THIS OFFICE WITH TASTE AND DESPATCH.

"Old Dr. James," the retired physician is letting the balance of his earnings run out in England, and advertising regularly in the Times and other papers, as willing to communicate for stamps.—Exchange.

The true name of the genuine "Dr. James" of "sands of life" notoriety is Talbot Watts, who formerly kept a second hand book stall in Nassau-st. N. Y. He became suddenly famous from vending a quack nostrum, known by the name of "Nervous Antidote," for which he obtained a long list of clergyman's names, vouching for its wonderful efficacy, and finally applied to the Mayor of New York to have the sick city placed in his hands. One day a person taking the "Antidote" died suddenly from the effects of strychnine, upon which Dr. Watts vanished. His next appearance was with the sonnet of a "Retired Physician," with the "sands of life" running out. He is now supposed to be in reality located somewhere on the sea shore where sand is very plenty—in fact that his capital is invested in a Bank that will never "run out."

The Buffalo Express on Crops.

"We scarcely open a newspaper, no matter from what section of our overhadowed country, that does not swell the universal anthem of rejoicing in bountiful crops."

We admire the flight of genius which ascends in the above, but we don't exactly understand about our "overhadowing country." That our country—our dear beloved country, as the Express would say—is "overhadowed" there seems to be little chance for doubt, but that it "overhadows" any thing is not so clear, if it is so however, let us know what!

The Express proceeds:—"The Earth gives forth, in perfection and profusion, its thirty, forty, fifty and even its hundred fold return of whatever is sown. Everywhere, upon Mountains and in Valleys, South, West, North and East, in all latitudes and upon every variety of soil, the People are blessed with rich Harvest. We content ourselves, just now, with giving an account of the Crop in Allegany county."

Here the Express makes one grand descent into the Genesee Valley and becomes prosy on an extract from the Free Press.

CONNECTION.—The Niagara Falls Gazette states we committed an error in crediting to it the other morning, an item stating that Mr. LeClear is finishing a handsome house on the south side of Main-st., in that village. We are informed that it is at Batavia that Mr. LeClear is building a residence, and we presume that it was from one of the little dailies of that place that we clipped the paragraph and inadvertently credited it to the Gazette.—Buf. Express.

It is a very small matter Mr. Express, on our part, as we don't care much about who steals news items from the Daily Herald, but it is a much smaller affair for you to take so much pains to give credit for our paragraphs to some one else. We informed you which of the Batavia Dailies you were indebted to. We don't write paragraphs for our contemporary, and therefore it don't answer our purpose to have you copy our language and give credit elsewhere, as you have done on occasions heretofore.

A SMART AT DOWNER.—Two freight cars of the New York and Erie Railroad, were smashed to pieces on Friday afternoon last, owing to some carelessness in switching off the State Line train of cars of the Lake Shore Railroad. Several men who were on the freight cars at the collision were about taking place, saved themselves by leaping off.

The Catholic Bishop of Montreal has addressed a circular to his clergy, calling upon them, as soon as possible, to pronounce from their pulpits, "a strong warning against the opera, the theater, the circus, and other amusements of a similar nature, which at the present moment are a real scandal to our city and country districts."

Cheap Living in New York.

A correspondent of the Buffalo Republic gives the following information of interest to economists who visit the Metropolis:

When a young man comes to New York, if his means are moderate, his first business is to rent cheap furnished rooms. Then get his meals at a restaurant. On the corner of Broadway and Howard, at Meschutt's he gets three hot biscuits and a cup of coffee for six cents, and for dinner roast beef and potatoes, three biscuit, a cup of coffee and pie for a shilling; or at Howe's Bakery, on the other corner, a cup of coffee, a large piece of pie and three hot buns for ten cents. There is also a bakery on the corner of Cedar street and the first narrow street running parallel with Broadway, where can be had for 13 cents, a bowl of bread and milk—plenty of it—and blackberries or other fruit. The proprietor, I understand, buys three hundred quarts per day of milk from two farmers in the neighborhood of the city. No fault can be found, then, with the cheapness of living. Clothing can be bought at your own price.

LOOK UP!—Griffin recommends the habit of looking aloft in all cases. He says: If you are low spirited "look up" and you will discover that Heaven is still "just over head." If you meet with hard luck, don't use strychnine and die with cramps, but "look up," face the music and resolve to see the thing out. Do this and you will soon find that hard luck is as easily put down as a Roman punch or a one-horned riot. Do your friends forsake you because you could not "lift that note" last week, do not be disheartened, but "look up" and redouble your energies. In a short while you will get ahead of fate, and once more bank in the regions of prosperity and double chins. If sickness overtakes you and stretches you out on a mattress with a fever that keeps you surrounded with "yaller snakes" and sore headed bears, don't be disheartened and think of pulling off your head with a boot-jack, but "look up" and believe that "it will be all right in the spring." If you wish for success "look up." If you wish to reach the Presidency don't look down at the board of Aldermen, but upward at the United States Senate. The higher you aim, the higher you'll strike. The only man who should look down is the man who does wrong—the man of crime, and users who eat out the substance of their neighbors. "Look up!"

CENTRAL RAILROAD TAXES.—The general city taxes of the N. Y. Central Railroad Company were paid to the Treasurer yesterday, and amounted to between six and seven thousand dollars; other taxes for local improvements, amounting to nearly two thousand dollars, have just been paid by the Company. We are told that the Central Railroad Company pay out at their office in this city about fifty thousand dollars per month, a good part of which goes into immediate circulation.—This is a fact which should be taken into account by those who feel hostile to the road. If there are disadvantages arising from the fact that the iron rails halve and quarter the city of Rochester, there is a little something to compensate in a pecuniary way.—Rochester Union.

A NEW "LOVE OF A BONNET."—The newest thing in Paris, just now, is said to be a bonnet made of fine black hair, embroidered with butter-cups in silver straw. The ribbon used for the trimming has a black ground and the flowers at the side are entirely black with jet centres. The effect of this combination is considered as very original, and has the advantage of defying dust.

YOUNG AMERICA IN EUROPE.—A YOUNG TOURIST.—James E. Thompson, of New Haven, a lad thirteen years of age, has recently returned from an European tour, including a visit to Paris, where he went alone and unprotected and remained about a week. His schoolmates in the Lovell School of New Haven have honored the young traveler with a public reception, at which addresses of congratulation were made and responded to.

One firm in New Orleans, in the drug business, expends $25,000 a year in job printing, and $30,000 in advertising. A clothing firm has expended $50,000 in advertising within six months. Both establishments are now enjoying the lion's share of patronage. Old fogies, please notice.

One of our citizens of "credit and renown" says the Belfast Journal, while ruralizing, a few days since, unconsciously sat down on a humblebee's nest. He had, for a moment, a realizing sense of what "the seat of war" means, about which so much talk is made.

Bobby, why don't you go home and have your mother sew up that hole in your trousers? "Oh, go 'long; our folks are economizing, and a hole will last longer than a patch."

The number of visitors to Saratoga was never greater than now. The hotels are full to repletion, and many have to sleep standing—at the bars.

The Secret Motive of Peace.

M. Gaillardet, the able correspondent of the N. Y. Courier des Etats Unis, and the best informed of the writers for the American press, ascribes the peace among other things, to a serious misunderstanding between Napoleon and Victor Emmanuel. The latter felt offended because his personal gallantry and that of his army at the battle of Palestro were not noticed in Napoleon's Order of the day. His anger was so great, that at the battle of Magenta, he delayed to occupy the position assigned him, and left the Imperial Guard to sustain for two hours, unsupported, the shock of the Austrian army. He newly lost the battle by his delay, and the Emperor did not hesitate to charge him with it, as he believed it was done on purpose. The King of Piedmont became so distrustful, that, when Napoleon announced the hour for entering in triumph into Milan, he was at the place two hours ahead of time, fearing that the French Emperor would make the entry alone. These details came from Victor Emmanuel himself, who told them in conversation with one of the Directors of the Lombard Railroad.

M. Gaillardet writes also that though the Milanese hailed the advent of the French with enthusiasm, the reception became colder as they penetrated Lombardy. When the Austrians approached Brescia after the battle of Solferino, the inhabitants replaced the Italian tricolors with the Austrian flag, which they had kept in reserve. In the country the peasantry showed no good will to the French soldiers.

In spite of the talk about the enthusiasm of the Italian patriots, there were very few enlistments—except the five or six thousand patriots, mostly trained under Garibaldi. The population did not rise and take arms as the proclamation of Napoleon invited them to do. On the other hand the Lombard troops in the Austrian army were faithful to their soldiers; and it was the regiments almost exclusively Italian that fought most desperately against the French at Marignano. It was only when vanquished and about to be crushed that they cried Evviva l'Italia, in order to get quarter.

While the peasantry earned the liberating army, the shopkeepers and traders of Piedmont made spoil of its necessities, charging shameless prices for everything. Count Cavour was counteracting the policy of Napoleon, inviting insurrection everywhere, while the French Emperor was avowedly repressing it.

Peace was made from a sentiment of distrust towards the King and Ministry of Piedmont, and of disgust at the conduct of the people, who so little appreciated the sacrifices and devotion of the allies.—Atlas and Argus.

The Rochester Register says that John P. Manly has a new machine for mowing reaping, haying, raking and binding, all combined. It says, the binders, which are made of hemp cord, will only cost about 80 cents per acre of ground, and will last many years, as they can be removed without injury from the bundle quicker than one can be cut with a knife.

LECTURES FOR THE PEOPLE.

REV. HUGH STOWELL BROWN, Of the Myrtle Street Chapel, Liverpool.

FIRST SERIES.

With a Biographical Introduction by DR. R. SHELTON MACKENZIE.

Published under a special arrangement with the Author. One volume, 12mo., cloth, with a Steel Portrait. Price $1.00.

OPINION OF THE ENGLISH PRESS.

"We have read Mr. H. S. Brown's 'Lectures' with much satisfaction. Mr. Brown knows how to speak to the people. He has almost every qualification for it. If we may judge from his printed address. There is a manly sentimentality about him; but all is healthful as the breeze on the hill. There is no clap trap; he is both too honest and too earnest for that. There is neither a Pharisaic scorn of vice, nor any effeminate apologetics for it, but a wise Christian man's righteous hatred of it, who knows how to look on those who are sin degraded as his brethren. He speaks to the people almost as one of themselves, only from a higher level; and though he uses their daily phrases, yet he does not thereby pander to vulgarity. He has a happy acquaintance with our homely common sense proverbs, and employs them tellingly. There is no affectation of extraordinary 'concern for the poor' or their 'welfare'; but there is that real manly concern which can afford to dispense with profession, and to express itself chiefly in calm but brave and sensibly earnest endeavours. The proverb, 'Much cry and little wool,' you may reverse in his case. His true desire to benefit the people is partly shown by the pains with which he collects and prepares the statistics of vice, poverty, disease, &c., in order that his well-matched facts may press to the understanding. The genuineness of his earnestness is evinced by the cheerfulness with which he tells, along the highway of common sense. He has no resources to reckless, indiscriminating charges, and is too strong for exaggeration. Truth is enough for him; would that this were so distinctively. While he faithfully touches the worst vices, yet you never feel that the censor himself must have a coarse taste or prurient imagination. These Sunday afternoon lectures are not 'sermons'; nor intended to be. In them he grapples with acknowledged evils; but still, while opening the eyes of the people to the real nature of much of what their daily life too often is, and showing what it might be, he is never ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, chargeable with even seeming to let them go away with the impression that anything else, and not the kingdom of heaven, is the thing to be sought. In Mr. Brown we have a man who, we should judge, can afford to go where any classes of God's erranders are demonstrated, for he is strong and his strength is holy."—Monthly Christian Spectator.

"ITALY AND THE WAR OF 1859."—This handsome volume, written by Madame Julie de Marguerites, and suitably illustrated with Maps and Portraits has just been published by G. G. EVANS (the original Gilt Book Publisher) of Philadelphia, at the low price of $1.25 and is as well timed as it is well executed. The design is to show Italy in her Past and Present; so that the reader may understand on what grounds she bases her expectancy of a glorious future, with this view the author, who has travelled largely through Europe, and has resided for a considerable period in Milan, with visits to the other great cities of Italy, describes places with which she is acquainted, and personages whom she intimately knows. The statistics of the various States now engaged in hostilities, are given, with biographical sketches of the sovereigns generally, and Statesmen, whom the war has thrown into prominence. A great deal of personal anecdote is introduced, which very much adds to the spirit and acceptability of the work. The course of the war is fully and fairly developed, and there is appended an authentic account of the war itself up to the present time, including the official report of the various battles, and the eloquent exploits of General Garibaldi, the gallant Guerrilla leader.

We notice that in an introduction to the work, Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, Literary and Foreign Editor of "The Press," (Philadelphia) very warmly eulogizes its design and execution.

A copy of the book, and a handsome present, will be sent by mail, post-paid, upon receipt of $1.25 for the book, and 21 cents for postage.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE, For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS, For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS; all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of FEVER AND AGUE, preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivalled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors, to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa.

P. S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take care not to be deceived by cheap imitations. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

Given at 150 N. 3rd St., and R. Fellows, Batavia; Porter & Co., Corby; G. W. Wright, East Pembroke; J. & S. B. Kitting, Richfield; and dealers generally throughout the country. d. w. l.

DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, AND DR. HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL.

The great standard medicines of the present age, have acquired their great popularity only through years of trial. Unbounded satisfaction is rendered by them in all cases; and the people have pronounced them worthy.

THE GROVER & BAKER

Sewing Machine Co.
Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their CELEBRATED FAMILY MACHINES, with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They REM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made, that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which
A CHILD OF TEN YEARS may readily learn to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of ONE CENT AN HOUR.

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than was possibly be done by hand?
